Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Walkinshaw and little son, T. L., Jr., spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. A. W. Bradshaw, and family. Important business at home compelled Mr. Walkinshaw to abbreviate their visit.

City Marshal Hough, who is making vigorous efforts to enforce the speed and traffic regulations in regard to auto drivers, yesterday stated to a Times reporter that more trouble was caused in such matters by certain prominent citizens than from any others. How would you like to be a "prominent" citizen?

Senator Frank McDavid, of Springfield, who represents that Senatorial District in the Legislature, arrived in Farmington Monday to attend to business in circuit court here. Senator McDavid is a prominent figure in Democratic politics of Missouri, and was chairman of the late State Democratic convention in Joplin.

B. W. Loomis, who has been elected as President of Marvin College at Fredericktown, was in Farmington on business Wednesday and yesterday. Mr. Loomis has many friends in the county, having taught at Flat River several years. During the war he was engaged in government service and he and wife have lately made their home in Warrensburg.

J. F. Meador, of Craig, Colo., was here the last of the week attending to business for a client in circuit court. Mr. Meador was formerly prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, moving to Colorado several years ago. He is wonderfully pleased with his present home, which he considers really a wonderland. He has also prospered there in the practice of the law.

Prof. Geo. A. Miller, superintendent of the Ozark Business College, recently stated to a Times reporter that there is now a much larger enrollment in that institution than ever before in its history, at this season of the year. The Ozark is now recognized as one of the leading business colleges of the State, with a strong and constantly increasing demand for its graduates.

City Marshal Hough is putting forth every possible effort to suppress auto speeders and violators of any of the traffic laws, which violators have apparently been on the increase of late. Such efforts of the Marshal will have the enthusiastic approval and support of all good citizens. There have been a number of arrests lately of such law violators, and the general sentiment is to give them the legal limit in every case where it is shown that such violation was due either to carelessness or maliciousness.

Claude A. Eaton, former State Bank Examiner, organized a new bank at Morehouse last week, with a capital of $25,000. Wm. Crumpecker, president; Claude S. Hale, vice president; and H. P. Daugherty, cashier. It has been named the Peoples Bank of Morehouse, and will open for business July 1st. The stock was oversubscribed, and a limit of 25 shares placed to any individual, corporation or company. The stock has been distributed among 27 shareholders, the management and control solely in Morehouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Coezan were most pleasantly surprised Monday evening by a number of good friends, about sixty in number, who "stormed" them with tin, in which there were a number of pieces of aluminum ware, in observance of the tenth wedding anniversary of this splendid couple. While the splendid gathering was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Coezan, "Rolla" soon demonstrated that where there is will there is always a way to meet in a creditable manner any emergency, and he soon had splendid refreshments for every guest.

Postmaster and Mrs. J. B. Smith returned Monday from a week's visit to the home of Mr. Smith's brother, Bert Smith, who brought them home in his car. They report a most enjoyable trip, though Bert invariably omits from commendation the return trip, a part of which was exceedingly rough, according to him. Bert's affliction renders him incompetent to go through such strenuous treatment as he contends that return trip was, without protest. Therefore he was delighted to get back on what he regards as the splendid rock roads of St. Francis county, though it is said they landed here with a spring broken, the engine spitting fire, and the Postmaster cussing by note.

YOU SHOULD SEE THEM

I have just received two new Dodge cars, direct from the factory. One is a Roadster and the other a Touring Car. I would be pleased to demonstrate either of these splendid cars to any prospective purchaser. They are beautiful. ROLLA COEZAN, Farmington, Mo.

YOU LIVE IN 'GOD'S COUNTRY'

During the next few months there will be much deploring done by the political wackies. No doubt there are lots of things in this country that are not as they should be and lots more that are not what we would like them to be.

But while you listen to the deploring—some of which you may deplore yourself—don't let them beguile you from the fact that we have a great country, with great resources, great prospects and that every man in America gets benefits out of the said fact whether he is poor or rich.

Although the United States has only about 6 per cent of the world's population and 7 per cent of its land, this God's country of ours produces 20 per cent of the world's supply of gold, 25 per cent of the world's supply of wheat, 40 per cent of the world's supply of iron and steel, 40 per cent of the world's supply of lead, 40 per cent of the world's supply of silver, 50 per cent of the world's supply of zinc, 52 per cent of the world's supply of coal, 60 per cent of the world's supply of cotton, 60 per cent of the world's supply of aluminum, 60 per cent of the world's supply of copper, 66 per cent of the world's supply of oil, 75 per cent of the world's supply of corn, 85 per cent of the world's supply of automobiles.

State vs. Nich Julian, gambling; plea of guilty and fine of $25 and costs.

Milton C. Spauld vs. A. C. Leonard, appeal J. P.; judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

SPLENDID OLD CITIZEN

David B. Kerlagon was born Nov. 7, 1856, and departed this life at 6:20 p. m., June 13th, 1920, at his home in Farmington, Mo., after an illness of two and a half years, aged 63 years, 7 months and 6 days. He was the son of the late James E. and Mary (nee Palmer) Kerlagon, to whom 13 children were born. The deceased being the third child, one brother and three sisters having preceded him in death.

The sorrowing children are, Dr. C. Kerlagon of Bismarck, Mo.; Zeno of Route 1, Bonne Terre; Kate (Mrs. Wm. Morris) of Route 1, Bonne Terre; Ada (Mrs. Bud Thurman) of Route 2, Farmington; Cora (Mrs. J. E. Thurman) of Desloge; Sophia (Mrs. Geo. AuBuchon) of Bonne Terre; Clara (Mrs. Wm. Stegall) of Bonne Terre; Monroe of Route 1, Bonne Terre.

Deceased located in this city in 1880, and was united in marriage to Mary Matilda Wichman on February 10, 1884. To this union three children were born: William, who died in infancy; Clarence D., of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Fred, of Farmington.

He located in Farmington in the employ of Gay & Isenman. After Mr. Gay's death, he opened up for himself. Later he moved to Iron Mountain, which was then quite a thriving little city, returning to Farmington in the year 1886 to the employ of Lang & Bro. Mfg. & Merc. Co., where he remained until his health made it impossible for him to pursue his work any longer.

He was possessed of sterling character, a kind and devoted husband and a loving father. He loved his home life and his friends were numbered by his acquaintances, being honest and upright in all of his dealings with his fellow citizens.

Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Fr. Ryan, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 16, 1920, and the remains were laid to rest in Calvary cemetery.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NOTES

Liberal Use of Milk—The Children's Need.

Healthy, happy children are a joy forever. Everyone loves romping, healthful youngsters. They bring happiness to the hearts of mothers, they insure a nation's continued greatness.

Growing children must have bone-making, muscle-building, mind-developing food. (Milk—in a manner unlike any other food—builds up your children and preserves their health. That's why milk is an economy food. One quart of milk contains food strength that cannot be equalled in any other food at far greater cost.

Begin today! Make your slogan—a quart of milk per child each day. Use less meat, do away with heavy and rich desserts. Cook with milk. Eat more butter. Eat more cheese. Eat more ice cream. The milk way is the health way.

Drying—a Means of Conserving Garden Products for Winter Use.

Under present conditions, it is essential that every effort be made to save all surplus food material for winter use. Canning and preserving cares for large quantities of garden and orchard products this season, but many fruits and vegetables can be kept to advantage by drying and storage.

Drying of fruits and vegetables in the home can be handled with simple and inexpensive equipment. Products that can be handled to best advantage by drying, are corn, snap beans, lima beans, beets, carrots, apples and peaches.

The last method is more rapid, more certain and usually gives better results. A simple home dryer consists of a series of shallow trays with wire mesh bottoms. These trays fit together closely. The dryer may be used over a gas burner, oil stove, or kitchen range. The trays should be raised ten inches above the source of heat.

Sun drying must be done during the brightest days of summer and early fall. Screen or netting should be put over the product to protect from insects. Sun drying is slow, rather inconvenient because the product must be put out and taken in each day, and uncertain, since a cloudy or rainy day may allow the product to sour.

To have good dried products, one must have good, fresh materials to start with. Careful and quick preparation is necessary. Materials that are to be dried should be gathered in the morning while they are cool and the drying process started as quickly as possible.

Fishing is fine, as are the fish. But many report them difficult to catch.

13-YEAR LOCUSTS WILL APPEAR THIS MONTH OVER STATE

The 13-year "Locust," with which most persons are familiar, will appear in the next few days over most of the state. The cicadas, which will soon come out of the ground, hatched from eggs deposited in twigs in 1907 and the nymphs have been feeding and growing underground for thirteen years. Another form of the Cicada requires seventeen years to develop.

The insect is not a "locust" at all but rather a sap-sucking insect similar to the green plant louse and it does not attack crops. In young orchards it often does considerable injury by splitting the small limbs while placing its eggs in them. This injury is worse where young orchards are alongside large tracts of timber. To prevent such injury paint the trunks and larger limbs with white-wash to which enough lime-sulphur is added to give it an odor, is the advice of L. Haseman of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. Systematic driving of the insects from young trees will also help to prevent twig injury.

In 1907 this brood was reported from all regions of the state except the extreme southeast counties and the west-central and the northwest counties of the state. Farmers, county agents, and others who see or hear the Cicada during June are urged to report to the University of Missouri, College of Agriculture, Department of Entomology, the location and date of the occurrence and the abundance of the Cicadas. Records of any injury to young orchards are especially desired.
